

NINETEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME
SUNDAY 7TH AUGUST 2022

Today's readings show us how the faithful must often carry on in adverse conditions that require strength and alertness as they wait for God's deliverance. The second reading is especially direct. Scholars agree that Paul did not write this composition and that it was most likely a sermon, rather than a letter, by an unnamed orator. This preacher was apparently addressing Jewish Christians who were moving away from their faith. The drift from faith may have resulted from complacency or from persecutions from the non-Christian community. It was not uncommon for Christians to lose their jobs, marriages, family inheritances, or even their lives. For this reason, the author focuses on returning to authentic faith lived out together as a community.

The section we hear today points to Abraham's great faith as an example. He believed in God's promises despite obvious uncertainties and in the case of the near sacrifice of Isaac, he held on to trust even in the face of God's terrible command. Although he and others of our ancestors never saw the ultimate fulfilment of God's promises – the chosen people settled in the Promised Land – they believed in it "from afar" and followed their path (Heb 11:13). In the same way, Christians need to believe in Christ despite the adversities they might face.

The author reminds the audience that their faith will reap a reward the great Old Testament ancestors did not see in their own lifetimes. The fulfilment of all faith in God and his promises is Jesus Christ, God's Son, whose sacrificial death brought humanity back into right relationship with their Creator. For this reason, the audience should all the more recognise the incredible opportunity and grace they have received in this faith in Christ and membership in the church and return to these gifts wholeheartedly. In the view of the author, this is a gift you cannot send back!
